Teritory SHARP ISRAELIS

Tel-Aviv, May 2. Isuaeli and Syrian forces were reported fighting on Wednesday, night in Israeli territory north of Lake Tiberias.

An official Israeli communique said the fighting started after Syrian soldiers entered the demilitarised zone north of Lake Tiberias and continued three-fifths of a mile westward into Israeli territory.

The communique said United Nations officers sped to the scene in an attempt to stop the fray but were not able to get close to either side because of heavy firing.

A second communique tonight said a small

Hongkong TTONGKONG has every reason to II feel satisfied with the reports that are coming from London describing the success of the Colony at the British Industries Fair, more especially as they emphasise realisation of the primary object of possessing a stand at the exhibition - interesting world-wide buyers in our finished products. Hongkong's association with the BIF over the past four years has increasingly fulfilled expectations and has done more than anything else to draw the attenof British, Continental and Commonwealth buyers to the growing range of well finished articles which our light industries and enterprises are capable of putting on the market. It was the wide variety of articles on display at the Hongkong stand which captured the attention of His Majesty the King when he visited the Fair on Tuesday, and, as our London correspondent has pointed out, the value and distinction of our exhibits are that they are practical and therefore appeal greatly to purchasing agents. It is to let the world know that Hongkong possesses industries and factories that can turn out useful as well as ornamental commodities at competitive prices and of appreciable. quality that the Colony is represented at the BIF. This is an important -mission to accomplish, and one in which Mr U Tat-chee and his codelegates, profiting from past experience, are clearly going to be singularly successful. But this year they have another mission of great moment — to try and find new supply sources of raw materials. The United States embargo renders this imperative. Our delegates have shown that if determination counts for anything, they will meet with a good measure of success in their quest... And this second mission points up the great value of the Colony's manufactured commodities being given a worthy display at the BIF. Through their exhibition those able to supply raw materials in Britain and on the continent can judge for themselves how genuine are the Colony's needs and how worth while it will be to give Hongkong every possible assistance in providing for her requirements. Our display at Earl's Court, this year more than any other time, demonstrates that Hongkong can produce useful commodities which are needed in other parts of the world. And it proves conclusively to any Doubting Thomases that our industries have become an integral part of the Colony's economic prosperity. These are important facts to be made known overseas. Mr U Tat-chee sagely made the point in his speech to the China Association. The world is frequently misinformed about the Far East in general and Hongkong in particular and his remark that "it needs the guidance of the constant clear voice of sanity and truth" will be wholeheartedly echoed in this Colony. Through no fault of its own, and to some extent because of misinformed and ill-informed opinion in the United States, Hongkong has been-cut-off from substantial supplies of essential raw materials. We share, however, the confidence of the Colony's BIF delegation that these can be made good from other sources, and we believe the personal approach which is being made by our industrial representatives now in England, Will bear happy results. Mr U Tat-chee will do well to repeat his challenge made this week to the China Association: "I know you will step forward with us to give proof that commerce cannot, and will not retreat."

Britain's Aims In Korea

London, May 2. Lord Jowitt, the Lord Chancellor, said tonight that Britain was not fighting Communism or Communist China in Korea, but aggres-

"We must stand firm and continue to fight that aggression as long as it is necessary," he told the House of Lords in a defence debate, Ho agreed with Lord Vansittart, who initiated the debate, that there must be no appeasement if that meant a weakening on this particular issue. Britain's immediate aim was to bring about a cease-fire in Korea-which was not appeasement-if the Chinese were willing.

Lord Jowitt said that the effort of the Good Offices Committee to bring this about had been unavailing. There had been no response whatever from China.

He hoped wiser counsels would prevail in China. But because this had not yet happened it would be unwise to contemplate at present any extension of the war.

ALL AT STAKE Lord Jowitt said it would be a profound mistake to try to mix up this problem with phose of Malaya and Indo-China. These problems must be isolated and dealt with one "Everything is at stake here," he said.

Was China prepared to be law-abiding member, of the community of notions? If so he had every hope that a ceasefire and a peaceful settlement in Korea would come: Lord Jowith defended Britain's recognition of China, which was attacked by Opposition speakers. What had happened in Korea might not have happened if Communist China had been in the United Nations, he said. Lord Jowitt also said that Britain and other countries

The non-Communist nations are building 1,217 merchant ships in a stepped-up-bid-to-reduce the world shipping shortage.

Lloyd's Register of Shipping, the clearing house for facts and figures on shipping west of the Iron Curtain, reported on Wednesday that 5,097,084 tons ___gross, or 1,217 ships were under construction. The report for the first quarter of the year shows an increase of 278,311 tons, or 48 ships, over the last three months of 1950.

Britain, which suffered the biggest wortime shipping lbss, led the field during the first quarter of this year, with 40.7 per cent of bottoms under construction, France was placed second. with 9.5 per cent and Japan third with 9.4 per cent. Italy accounted for 6.3, Sweden 5.9, and Holland

5.8 per cent. The United States merchant reserve fleet, which experts say is difficult to run on ordinary commercial terms, accounted for only 5.3 per cent of construction all on the West Coast. BRITAIN AHEAD

British Commonwealth coun tries, apart from Britain, chalked up a total of 2.3 per cent, Norway, Denmark and Spain built about two per cent among ther countries listed.

Countries making the largest additions to their own fleets are Britain, Norway and France, the Lloyd's report said. The largest amount of new tonnage to be imported will go to Norway, Argentina and France.

The White Paper on the National Income and Expenditure of the United Kingdom gives a statistical picture of the U.K. in 1950, the year when economic recovery from the effects of war may be said to have been completed, and when the first shocks of rearmament began to be felt.
